J. of C., I, 80. J. of C., I, 69. there, the Congress took the matter into consideration, I and recommended, for the present, to the inhabitants of New York, that if the troops, which are expected, should arrive, the said. colony act on the defensive, so long as may be consistent with their safety and security; that the troops be permitted to remain in the barracks, so long as they behave peaceably and quietly, but that they be not suffered to erect fortifications, or take any steps for cutting off the communication between the town and country, and that if they commit hostilities or invade private property, the inhabitants should defend themselves and their property, and repel force by force; that the warlike stores be removed from the town; that places of retreat, in case of necessity, be provided for the women and children of New York, and that a sufficient number of men be embodied, and kept in constant readiness for protecting the inhabitants from insult and injury. A single illustration of another class of applications will suffice. June 14, a letter from the convention of New York, dated 10th instant, respecting a vessel which is stopped there, on suspicion of having on board provisions for the army and navy at Boston, was read..
