Group Stimulus Although the management is in the hands of board, superintendent, and teachers, nevertheless the control of the system belongs ultimately to the group. Board officials are paid no salaries, serving at the wish of the community and in the interest of group efficiency. They are strictly amenable to the wishes of the public. Residents show a willingness to be taxed for all reasonable improvements. The expense of a new building, annual repairs, extensive grading of lawns, free text books, additions to library and laboratory, higher salaries, and commencement appropriations is accepted without opposition. Back of this is a dynamic of interest manifested in various ways. There is the usual visiting of school exercises. Influential men of the town frequently address the students at chapel. Parents are daily visitors in the grades. Exhibitions at Thanksgiving, Christmas, St. Valentine s day and Easter are attractive...
