Reviews

This pdf is indeed gripping and interesting. It is definitely simplistic but shocks within the 50 percent of your book. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

GAO found that: (1) potential reductions and rescissions to the services 1994 OM budget total $6.7 billion; (2) between fiscal years 1989 and 1992, the services had $1.197 billion in unobligated OM appropriations; (3) budget requests are generally overstated to compensate for future requirements and reductions; (4) the Air Force s and Army s budget requests do not reflect anticipated burden-sharing payments received from Korea and Japan; (5) budget requests for spare parts do not recognize savings available through improved inventory management practices; (6) the services budget requests for depot maintenance, travel funds, and pilot training flying hours are overstated; (7) funding for many Department of Defense (DOD) systems and drug interdiction efforts could be reduced due to their questionable effectiveness, viability, and continued need; (8) DOD could save substantial funding by increasing its use of existing cargo aircraft capacity and reducing its civilian personnel requests; (9) Congress could rescind funds for National Guard youth programs, special event security items, and the Navy s morale, welfare, and recreation programs; and (10) Congress could reduce the services repair and maintenance budget requests due to an expected base closing.
